NEW LINK ADDED TO EVIDENCE IN DEATH MYSTERY

Farmer Tells of Hearing Voices
Near Spot Where Woman
Was Found.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 8.—A new link has been added to the chain of evidence which Prosecutor Bacon Wakeman, of Fairfield, is building up around the mysterious death last Friday night of Dr. Elizabeth Radom. The body of this young woman was found lying on a lonely road in Fairfield.

The new evidence is furnished by Charles Johnson, a farmer.

Fifteen minutes after a sedan in which Dr. Radom and two men and another woman had left the Ash Creek gasoline station on the night of the former's death, where the woman physician was recognized by James Spill, an attendant, an automobile containing several people stopped in front of the home of Miss Finitia Nichols on the Fairfield Post Road, a quarter of a mile from the gasoline station.

Johnson, a boarder in the house, was awakened from a sound sleep by loud voices. Thinking an accident had occurred he went to the window and heard the following conversation in men's voices:

"We have got to get away from here."

"Where shall we go?"

"Go anywhere. We can't stay here. Step on the gas."

Immediately the car started and disappeared down the road. Investigators of the State police and Sheriff H. R. Elwood, of Fairfield, are puzzled to explain what prompted the party to flee.

In a statement issued last night Prosecutor Wakeman said:

"I expect to have, within a few days, more tangible evidence to show that Dr. Radom died while she was in the company of other persons who fear to reveal their identity for important reasons."

Prosecutor Wakeman still inclines to the murder theory in the death of Dr. Radom, in spite of the official opinion held by Medical Examiner W. H. Donaldson, who sees no reason to alter his original finding of suicide.

PARIS, Jan. 9.

Of different lengths but somewhat the same silhouette are the French cape coats sketched above. The traveling cape at the left and its matching turban are of red and gray plaid cloth, and the skirt that completes these is of plain gray cloth. The cape has a sort of vest, pocketed, belted and fastened with large red and gray galalith buttons, and tiny pockets appear in the skirt at an unusually low point.

Of bright green velour de laine banded in black cire braid is a second model with numerous qualities to fit it for sports wear. The close-fitting high collar is new and smart and exceedingly practical, as well, and beneath the amusing cape sleeves are serious tighter ones.

DANES TURNING MARKS INTO GERMAN LUXURIES

American buyers of large blocks of German marks, have a fresh "tip" from faraway Denmark on how to hedge in speculation which brought almost total loss.

Danish interests are using large sums of German mark holdings to buy in Germany luxuries and non-essential articles. The Danes obviously are making an effort to liquidate with the least possible loss, at least part of the great stock of German currency held in Denmark. American Agent Anderson cabled the Department of Commerce.

SNOW IS MELTING IN WYOMING MOUNTAINS.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Dec. 8.—Portions of high ground in the Medicine Bow National Forest are being bathed in sunlight for the first time in many years, according to reports to the national forest supervisor in this city. Because of the unseasonably warm weather a number of snowbanks in the Snowy Range, within the forest, have disappeared, and the ground is exposed for the first time in several decades.

When the telephone line to the fire lookout observatory atop of Medicine Bow peak showed "trouble" fire patrolmen carried ice from one of the glaciers to restore the "ground" near one of the poles.

EIGHTY CENTS IS TOP FOR CANDY PER POUND

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—When you pay more than 80 cents a pound for candy you're paying for the ribbons, tinfoil and the fancy box.

You have the authority of W. C. Hughes, secretary of the National Confectioners' Association, for that statement.

Hughes says manufacturers have cut their prices 40 to 50 per cent. His organization, he said, is planning a national advertising campaign to teach people that they can buy good candy without paying for fancy boxes.

Candy isn't a luxury, according to Hughes. There is no reason, he believes, why it should not be a daily food.
